Policy – Equality and Diversity Policy

Equality and Diversity

The B2W Group is committed to supporting, developing and promoting equality and diversity in all of its practices and activities and aims to establish an inclusive culture free from discrimination and based upon the values of dignity, courtesy and respect.

The company will support and develop the staff and its learners through providing all with access to facilities, personal and career development opportunities, employment and learning on the basis of equality. The company is committed to eliminating discrimination, supporting safeguarding, preventing radicalisation and advancing equality on the grounds of age, disability, gender reassignment, marriage and civil partnership, pregnancy and maternity, race, religion and belief (including lack of belief), sex and sexual orientation and to fostering good relations between different groups.

This commitment supports the organisational principles of the company and upholds the ethos of establishing a culture based on dignity, courtesy and respect.

This policy builds upon the foundation of equality legislation and anti-discrimination guidance and strives, not only to comply with legal requirements, but to use these to ensure that The B2W Group endeavours to exemplify best practice.

In developing and implementing its policy on the avoidance of discrimination and the promotion of equality and diversity, the company is committed to complying with all current and any future anti-discrimination legislation and associated codes of practice including, but not limited to the:

- Equality Act 2010
- Equal Pay Act 1970
- Sex Discrimination Act 1975
- Race Relations Act 1976
- Disability Discrimination Act 1995
- Employment Rights Act 1996
- Employment Equality (Sexual Orientation) Regulations 2003
- Employment Equality (Religion or Belief) Regulations 2003
- Commission for Racial Equality code of practice for the elimination of racial discrimination and the promotion of equality of opportunity in employment (1983)
- Equal Opportunities Commission code of practice on sex discrimination; equal opportunities policies, procedures and practices in employment (1985)
- Equal Opportunities Commission code of practice on equal pay (2003)
- Disability Discrimination Act 1995 codes of practice in relation to rights of access to facilities, services and premises in employment;

Policy – Equality and Diversity Policy

- European Community code of practice on the protection of the dignity of men and women at work.

The B2W Group values diversity and recognises that the company is greatly enhanced by the disparate range of backgrounds, experiences, views, beliefs and cultures represented within its staff and learner populations. The company aims to embrace diversity in all of its activities and proudly acknowledges that variety and difference are intrinsic to the wellbeing and future development of the business.

The Equality and Diversity policy underpins the Mission of The B2W Group and is integral to the success of the organisation.

This is an over-arching policy designed to outline the fundamental principles of company's commitment to equality and diversity and will be supported by specific action plans.

The policy applies to all learners and applicants, to all applicants for posts with the company, to all staff employed on a full time or part-time basis, to all staff on permanent or temporary contracts, to agency staff, to honorary title/contract holders and visitors undertaking duties in

The name of the company and to sub-contractors undertaking work on the company premises..

Legislative Background

Under Equality legislation it is unlawful to:

- Discriminate directly against anyone and treat him/her less favourably than others on the grounds of the protected characteristics of: age (unless this can be justified as a proportionate means of achieving a legitimate aim), disability, gender reassignment, marriage and civil partnership, race, religion and belief (including lack of belief), sex and sexual orientation. This also includes discrimination based on perception of the person e.g. a belief that someone is gay or a belief that someone is disabled even if this is not actually true.
- Discriminate against someone for reasons relating to their association with a person on the grounds of the protected characteristics of race, sexual orientation, religion or belief, age, disability, gender reassignment, sex and e.g. discriminating against an employee/learner because they have a disabled dependant.
- Discriminate indirectly against anyone by applying a criterion, provision or practice which disadvantages people with a protected characteristic (age, disability, gender reassignment, marriage and civil partnership, race, religion and belief (including lack of belief), sex and sexual orientation) unless the person applying the provision can justify it as a proportionate means of achieving a legitimate aim.

- Subject someone to harassment for reasons relating to age, disability, gender reassignment, race, religion and belief (including lack of belief), sex and sexual orientation. This includes behaviour that an individual finds offensive on these grounds even if the behaviour is not directed at the individual. It also includes failure of an employer to take reasonable steps to protect an employee from persistent (3 occasions or more) third party harassment.
- Victimise someone because s/he has made, or intends to make, a complaint or allegation or has given or intends to give evidence in relation to a complaint of discrimination in line with the Equality Act.

Objectives

The aim of this policy is to ensure that in carrying out its activities the Company will have due regard to:

Analysis and Performance Management

At regular intervals we measure our success in E&D by the following:

- At all programme reviews we analyse learner data to measure that no gaps exist in performance and retention of different groups of different groups at stages throughout the learner journey. Where gaps are identified, we will implement specific programme action plans monitored by SMT to address additional support for specific cohorts.
- We will analyse our learner demographic in comparison to local demographic data to ensure our recruitment is representative of the local areas where we operate. When there is an imbalance, we will look at issuing targeted recruitment drives for priority cohorts.
- E&D responses are extracted from Learner and Employer Voice and analysed separately. Where negative trend and areas for improvement are identified, targeted action will be put in place by SMT.

Reporting Process Staff and Learners

If you feel the principles and guidelines of this policy are not being followed, all reports are to be sent to Alison Dann, Director of Quality and Performance.
